The chairman of our Safety Committee submits this for your consideration:

Today my daughter, who is seven years old, started to school as usual. She wore a dark blue dress with a white collar. She had on black shoes and wore blue socks. Her cocker spaniel, whose name is "Scout", sat on the front porch and whined his canine belief in the folly of education as she waved "goodbye" and started off to the halls of learning.

Tonight we talked about school. She told me about the girl who sits in front of her—the girl with yellow curls—and the boy across the aisle who makes funny faces. She told me about her teacher, who has eyes in the back of her head, and about the trees in the school yard, and about the big girl who doesn't believe in Santa Clause. We talked about a lot of things tremendously vital unimportant things and then we studied spelling, reading and arithmetic, and then to bed.

She's back there now—back in the nursery—sound asleep, with "Princess Elizabeth" (that's a doll) cuddled in her right arm. You guys wouldn't hurt her, would you? You see, I'm her daddy. When her doll is broken or her finger cut, or head gets bumped, I can fix it, but when she starts to school, when she walk across the street, then she's in your hands.

She's a nice kid. She runs like a deer and darts about like a chipmunk. She likes to ride horses and swim and hike with me on Sunday afternoons. But I can't be with her all the time—I have to work to pay for her clothes and her education. So please help me look out for her. Please drive slowly past the schools and intersections. And please remember that children run from behind parked cars.

Please don't run over my little girl.

Calf Club Banquet

A big banquet was staged in Lethbridge for all members of the calf club and their sponsors last Thursday, September 14th. The Raymond Lions Club was represented by Doug Paxman, Murray Holt and Paul Moreland. The club members were there in mass.

During the evening prizes and awards were presented to all winners of the big show at the Lethbridge Exhibition and Rodeo held last June. The Grand Champion cash prize went to Max Holt for having the best calf in the sale. He was also given the big Bronze Trophy and Showing Stick and five dollars in cash donated by the Alberta Hereford Breeders Association. Marshall Hironaka won the championship for the best group of five calves shown. He received the special Plaque donated by the Banks of Lethbridge. Many of our club boys and girls won other awards and prizes. The Raymond group won the lion's share of the awards considering the small number of members in the club.

The Lions Club will start its winter activities at the regular meeting to be held the first Monday in October at seven thirty. Every Lion must get going before that—we have a big Musical Attraction coming on September 30th. This is to be one of the finest musical treats that Raymond will get for a long time. The community should come out and give us their best support—to enjoy the program—and to help raise funds for our numerous projects. There will be full value for a dollar ticket. Watch for posters and leaflets.

Home and School

The Executive of the Home and School Assn. met at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Dahl Friday evening to plan the year's program. Those present were Dorothy Dahl, President; Delecta Sommerfeldt, Vice-President; Mary Hyde, Secretary; Lucille Paxman, Treasurer and Orvin Hicken and Lyman Jacobs, honorary members.

The first meeting of the Home and School Assn. this term will be held in the Public School on Wednesday, September 29, at 8 p.m. All parents of school-age children are urged to attend this meeting and get acquainted with the teachers and learn the program that is being arranged for the coming year. Help make YOUR Home and School Assn. a rousing organization this year.

Gun Club Hold "Shoot"

The recently re-organized Raymond Gun Club is becoming very active and popular. The membership is growing rapidly but new members are welcome and needed to insure the success of the Club.

On Sunday, September 17, a very successful "trap shoot" was held. High scoring honors went to Bud Williams who hit 24 out of a possible 25. Other good scores were: Harry Hall - 23, Willie Schneide - 22, "Rickety" Hicken 20 and many others. Come on out and join in this fun.

Under the auspices of the Raymond Gun Club, the Raymond Legion are holding their First Annual Turkey Trap Shoot November 11th, 1950 with many prizes to be given away. A little later there will also be held a Trophy Trap Shoot.

For further particulars about these events and about joining the Club, get in touch with Bud Williams who will be glad to drop his shoes and talk "trap shooting".

Mr. and Mrs. A. Hancock attended a Genealogical meeting Monday evening in Magrath at the J. T. Steele home.

Lois Fairbanks Is September Bride

A Wedding Reception of wide interest took place Wednesday evening, September 13th, in the beautifully decorated Stake House in honor of Lois, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fairbanks of Raymond, and Clifford, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Peterson of Lethbridge. The lovely bride chose a gown of traditional white satin with a sweetheart neckline, and lily point sleeves. Her three quarter length veil misted from a pearl studded tiara, and she carried a bouquet of red roses and white carnations. Mosele Baker, matron of honor, chose a floor length turquoise gown and bridesmaids Hazel Fairbanks and Yvonne Peterson wore gowns of green and mauve respectively. Kathleen and Deanna Fairbanks the little flower girls, were in yellow and blue. The brides attendants all carried nosegays of mixed flowers. The bride's mother was attired in a navy blue, and Mrs. Peterson in a green, afternoon dress. Roses made up the corsages for the mothers. Kay Peterson attended the groom and Lee Fairbanks, Cal Brandley and Owen Asplund were ushers. Norma Fairbanks and Reta Walker received and arranged the many lovely gifts while Ladine and Joanne Peterson presided at the Guest Book. Mrs. William Anderson and Mrs. Bob Salmon acted as hostesses and Norma, Bernice and Marie Dahl, Elaine Stevenson, June Anderson, Barbara Fairbanks and Barbara and Margaret Rodeback served the dainty lunch which was prepared by the members of the Neighborhood Club to which Mrs. Fairbanks belongs. The Bridal Party entered the recreation room, which had been decorated with white, pink and green streamers, baskets of gladioli, and dainty mixed flowers, to the strains of The Wedding March played by Emma Dahl. A three tiered wedding cake centered the floral decorated bride's table at the front of the room.

Bill Nalder as Master of Ceremonies interspersed numerous stories and jokes between the following numbers: A trio consisting of Gen Hawkins, Laura Watson and Evelyn Melchin beautifully sang "My Wonderful One I Adore You", followed by Hugh Laycock of Lethbridge playing "I Love You" and "Sweet Mystery of Life" on the violin. Viola Johansen, also of Lethbridge, presented a number of beautiful readings to a piano accompaniment. Another trio, Jean, Joan and Alice Holmes singing "People Will Say We Are In Love" concluded the program. Bishop Dahl proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom responded.

For her going away, the bride chose a wine suit with grey accessories. Upon their return the happy young couple will reside in Lethbridge.

That old coyote that has been bothering the flock of chickens at the Clarence Allred farm is no more. His escapade on Sunday morning when he was seen killing 15 chickens in rapid succession was his undoing. After that massacre C. E. put a price on his head and Monday night that reward was claimed by Cal and Gary Richardson. As per conditions of the reward offer, they brought the carcass to Mr. Allred who paid up—gladly.

Those expensive storm sewers and gutters along Broadway won't do much good if the gutters are not kept free from trash. Whose responsibility is it to clear them? Better decide now before the snow starts flying.

Golden Wedding Honors for Mr. and Mrs. J. Nilsson

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Nilsson, whose Golden Wedding Anniversary was September 12th, were guests of honor at a reception held in the Second Ward Recreation Room Thursday afternoon and evening of last week, under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Brandley and Mr. and Mrs. T. Geo. Wood.

The golden motif was used through out all the decorations with a profusion of golden glow and marigold adding a lovely floral touch. The beautiful three tiered cake, decorated by Mrs. E. L. Spackman, also carried out the golden theme.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Nilsson welcomed the guest at the door, Gladys Holt and Mrs. Schneider presided at the Guest Book and Edith Wooley was in charge of the Gifts. Hostesses for this event were Lucy Christensen, Marie Nilsson and Mrs. Bryan Henniger. The lovely corsages worn by Mrs. Nilsson and her six grand-daughters, were made by Mrs. Beth Walker.

The very tasty lunch served to the guests was under the direction of Mrs. June Allred with Mrs. Reg Cooper in the kitchen and Marie Dahl, Gertrude Anderson, Elaine Stevenson and Mona Palmer serving.

A number of Mr. and Mrs. Nilsson's wedding gifts and other mementos of the past were on display and viewed by the numerous friends and relatives who called to offer their congratulations. There were out of town visitors from Cardston, Magrath, Lethbridge and Stirling.

D. A. Bennett was the Master of Ceremonies for the following program: A solo by Emma Burr; piano selection by Emma Dahl vocal duet by Jim Harker and Evelyn Melchin; reading by Emma Redd; vocal duet by Louie Brandley and Marie Clawson; readings by Tom Woods; and by Teddy Nelson. The evening was concluded with a few remarks from Mrs. Brandley.

Mr. and Mrs. Nilsson wish to express their sincere appreciation to the many people who helped to make their Golden Wedding such a memorable occasion.

The Nilssons were married in the Salt Lake Temple, September 12th, 1900, returning to Munro, Utah where they lived until the Spring of 1904 at which time they came to Raymond. They farmed in this district until 1945 when they retired and came into town to live. Mr. and Mrs. Nilsson had five children, two of whom are living: Mildred and Don, of Raymond, and twelve grandchildren.

September is an important month for this couple, for as well as being their anniversary month, Mr. Nilsson celebrated his 75th. on the 15th. and Mrs. Nilsson celebrates her 73rd birthday on the 29th.

We join with the Community in extending our best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Nilsson.

Fire Brigade Called

At a few minutes before four this afternoon (Saturday) the operator of the Fire siren sat on it and made us think the whole town was going up in flames but it was just a grass fire at the rear of J. D. Hall's place. With a small stream of water and a few sacks it was soon extinguished.

Bernice Litchfield Weds Kenneth Lyman

Wednesday, September 3th, in the Alberta Temple, Bernice Litchfield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Litchfield, became the bride of Kenneth Lyman of Provo, Utah. A family reception was held in the Opera House in the late afternoon, with the bride wearing a floral afternoon dress complimented by a pink and white carnation corsage. Mrs. Litchfield chose for her daughter's reception a grey floral dress and a corsage of white and pink carnations.

A very delicious chicken dinner was served with Laida Larsen, Merle Judd and Floy Kiddle as serviteurs. Mrs. Fanny Litchfield in the role of chef prepared the dinner.

Eldon Olson of Beazer proposed the toast to the bride with the groom responding.

Out-of-town guests were from Stirling, Picture Butte, Beazer, Cardston and Mountain View.

Women's Institute

The Raymond W. I. held their September Meeting at the home of Mrs. I. Kitchen with Mrs. F. Gardner assistant hostess.

There were twenty members and two visitors present.

The Roll Call was answered with each member donating an article for the Bazar. The Secretary read a letter from the Fair Convenor Mrs. C. Peterson of Coutts, after which it was decided to donate cash for special prizes rather than ask for donations from business firms.

A letter from Miss. Mary Smart, District Home Economist, was read with regard to the members taking a six lesson course on "Home Decorating". The members voted in favor of taking the course.

Stocking caps and used clothing were handed in as the monthly project.

Miss. Mary Smart gave a very interesting talk and demonstration on "Entertainment Foods", stressing sandwiches, salads and centre pieces. The members then practiced the song, "Still As The Night". The door prize, a piece of print for an apron, donated by Mrs. Thomas Allen, was won by Mrs. N. W. Peterson.

An appreciation card from Mrs. W. Selman was read by Mrs. F. Hall. Mrs. Selman also expressed to the ladies, her thanks for all their kindness during her recent bereavement.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess.

Capitol Theatre News

As usual the Capitol has a line of first class films for this week. The picture of intrigue showing the first three days is "The Red Danube" starring Walter Pidgeon, Ethel Barrymore, Janet Leigh and Peter Lawford. If you enjoyed Mr. Pidgeons and Miss Leigh's performances in "The Forsyte Woman" this is the show for you to see. Thursday night brings "Unfaithfully Yours" with Rex Harrison and Linda Darnell and Friday and Saturday, a show you will remember as long as you can laugh—"Francis" with Donald O'Connor at his best and Francis, the talking mule.

Folks, this is a personal recommendation. See "Our Very Own" when it plays here the beginning of October. We saw it in Banff and it is really swell.

ROTE SPOKES

Yours truly strayed away from the beaten path Monday and did not attend Rotary. I apologize to Lee Brewerton who was the guest speaker for the day. Lee gave us a vocational talk on the movie industry and I'm sorry that I missed it.

While on the subject of show business here is an idea for Lee. In Milwaukee, Wisconsin, Manager Arnold Brumm of the Ritz Theatre announced that on Monday evenings, to be known henceforth as "Dignity Nights", people who insist on eating peanuts, popcorn or candy during the show will be asked to sit in a special section.

Here are some Rotary News picked at random:

President

He started his year with a long day in "the chair" at the July meeting of Rotary's new Board. He dispatched his "Five Goals" in leaflet form to the 7,100 Clubs. He found himself in the centre of a great "Arthur Lagueux Night" in his home town, Quebec City with 316 Rotary folks from Canadian and U. S. cities happily jamming historic Chateau Frontenac. Then, with his smiling wife, Christine, beside him, he motored out on a round of Rotary Club visits which took the "First Couple" into five Canadian Provinces and New England. Rotary's International President, Arthur Lagueux, had had in the first of his twelve months in office a good taste of what will be a busy, brimfull year. At press time he was working over plans for travel that, tentatively, will take him to Continental Europe, North Africa and Britain.

Atlantic City Next!

No attendance restrictions will obtain at Rotary's 1951 Convention. It will be open to all Rotarians, their families and guests. The place: Atlantic City, N. J., the oceanside metropolis famous for its convention facilities. The dates: May 27-31.

Banner Day!

On July 18th, the Rotary Foundation was swelled by a sum which, while it broke no records, was larger than any single day's receipts for many months. The figure: $4,065. Other Foundation facts: From July 1, 1949 to June 30th, 1950, Rotarians and Clubs contributed $171,570.63. Since the death of Founder Paul Harris in January 1947, contributions have totalled $1,806,503.28. Major portion of the Foundation's expenditures has gone into the financing of 195 overseas Fellowships for qualified young men and women. For 1950-51, 85 Rotary Foundation Fellowships have been awarded at a cost of $216,000.

USCB:

The number of Clubs in the USCB (United States, Canada and Bermuda) at the start of the new Rotary year July 1, was 4,410, with a membership of 342,730. Figures for the rest of the world are in process of compilation, reports from other regions arriving later than from the USCB.

Vital Statistics:

As of July 26th there were 7,124 Rotary Clubs and an estimated 342,000 Rotarians. New and readmitted Clubs since July 1st, 1949 total 306.

For Parents Only

By Nancy Cleaver

"No! No!"

"Tommy come inside this minute and get washed for dinner!" Mother's voice is clear and urgent. Her son acts as if he did not hear a word she said. Tommy goes right on playing. Mother repeats her command, raising her voice. Tommy starts a little. He looks up when Mother calls a third time and says defiantly, "No! No!"

Tommy's mother advances on her rebellious son with glint of fire in her eye. She murmurs to herself, "If that child of mine says 'No! No!' flatly to me again today—I'll teach him different—or I'll go stark mad!"

A mother of a first child should be prepared for just such an experience as this scene describes. There is a vast number of little boys and little girls too—in the two to four year old period who are constantly saying "No! No!" It is provoking and puzzling to parents who have enjoyed the baby's dependence on their care and the comparative ease in following his routine. Now the mother or father is confronted with this uncompromising negativism expressed by the child. "No! No!" How best can a parent meet this refusal to obey?

It is important that a mother should try to put herself in her child's place. He is beginning to get around "under his own steam" and all kinds of things fascinate him for short periods of time. He wants to run his own life and is very adverse to being "bossed". Likely he has had pleasure from seeing what a commotion he can create by defiance. Even at this early stage he is struggling to assert some degree of independence.

Parents need a great store of patience and good humour and also firmness when dealing with this "No! No!" period. There are certain things in a child's daily routine such as going to the toilet, washing his hands, coming to the meal table which he must do. But there are certain techniques that make it easier for a child to conform to necessary requests.

Obedience is not easy. But if Tommy had been prepared for the call to dinner, he would have been more willing to drop his play-things and come. Tommy's mother would have been wise to use the indirect command, "Twelve o'clock. Dinner time now!" and then take Tommy by the hand and start him indoors, rather than the direct order.

There is nothing to be gained by repeating a command over and over or by arguing with a rebellious child. Tommy's mother should make sure she has his undivided attention before making her request. But once she has given her direction, Tommy's mother must see that he does what he has been told to do. A slightly older child will ask "Why?" Just to stall for time, but the parent will find it well to state briefly the reason for an unexpected request.

"We will put on your new sweater because Granny knit it for you, and she will be proud to see it on you in your picture."

Parents should avoid unnecessary orders. Reducing commands to the minimum is one way to remove the number of opportunities for saying "No!" A mother will also perceive that sometimes a child says "No!" when he doesn't know his own mind—almost from habit—he may even mean "yes!"

In a different form from "No!" dislike of authority is apparent in an adolescent's development. Parents, if they could only remember, went through these very same phases, so they should not be too much dismayed at the pre-school child's negativism or the teenager's yen for freedom from parental supervision.

A good parent's goal is not a child who never questions authority or who never defies a command. The goal in child training is an individual who in time will be able to "put on the brake" and say "No! No!" to himself or to his companions when he knows he should. A "Yes" man is not a valuable citizen nor a very happy person.

Harding Attwood, ten-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Attwood, was the subject of an intense search the other night. The playful prank of pretending to throw his cap out of the school bus window caused many an anxious moment for his parents and the crowd of people who joined the search. Upon arriving home Harding started back to get his hat (which was in his sister's lunch pail) and when his parents couldn't find him they called Les Palmer who organized the search party. The RCMP from Magrath and about 75 persons were on the scene within half an hour. Fearing he may have fallen into the canal it was drained but offered no clue. A member of the party went to the Ken Baker home to enlist his help and found the boy having supper. Mr. Baker had seen him along the road and offered him supper with intentions of returning him home immediately after. To say the least, a joyful reunion of boy and parents followed.

A story often told about Paderewski, noted pianist, bears repeating. During one of the great man's visits to a small town near New York City, he took a stroll along the main street one afternoon.

Hearing the sound of a piano, he followed where it led and soon came to a house on which was a sign reading:

"Miss Brown

Piano Lessons - 25 cents an hour"

Pausing to listen, he heard the young woman trying to play one of Chopin's nocturnes, and not succeeding very well. Paderewski walked up to the house and knocked. Miss Brown came to the door and recognized him at once.

Delighted, she invited him in and he sat down and played the nocturne as only he could, afterwards spending an hour correcting her mistakes. Miss Brown thanked him and he departed.

Some months later he returned to the town and took the same walk. He soon came to the home of Miss Brown and looking at the sign, read

"Miss Brown (pupil of Paderewski)

Piano Lessons - $1.00 an hour"

In Memory of Bobby

In Memory of the four-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Zobel, Robert Donald who passed away in a drowning accident near his home on September 19, 1949 and sadly remembered by his parents, grandparents and all the Zobells.

He died on duty—this dear little lad, Like a sailor—with boots and all, On an errand of love for his Mother Who listened and awaited his call. The elements were against him As homeward he did come. His body was found far up the stream Blue—cold—and numb.

We mourn for Robert Donald We miss his handsome face, His big brown eyes, his winning smile, We miss him around the place, God must have needed him more than we Else why was he taken away To the Place He had prepared for him A year ago today?

Say, Bobby, what do you do with yourself up there? Do you run, do you laugh, do you play?

Do you know lots of people by now? Is Heaven the fun "they say"? Do you think about us sometimes And wonder how we are? Can you look down among the clouds And see us from afar?

Did you know Lorraine has started school? (Also Bobbie-Rae and Paddy)? And Johnnie—he runs all over now.

Some job — for your Mommy and Daddy. And four new cousins have come to earth

Since you went away, young fella. They are Linda, Roy, Steven Dane, And Aunt Ethel's "little Stella".

Grandma and Grandpa are both feeling fine

The rest of us also. When Uncle Zip gets a pain anywhere He says its his time to go.

We still get together in family crowds For a birthday, a picnic and such. The Galbraiths have moved to Pincher Creek.

So we don't see them very much. We had a very cold winter last year.

Then a spring so cold and long. Summer was like a good night's sleep. Now it's fall—the birds cease their song.

I'll say "good-bye", and God bless you. 'Ere I stop, would you please do this?

Open your arms wide, here's from us all

A love, a hug, and a kiss. Written by his Aunt, Norma Zobel.

Did you ever hear of a man who had striven all his life faithfully and singly toward an object, and in no measure obtain it? If a man constantly aspires, is he not elevated? Am I My Brother's Keeper?

For centuries our forefathers like ourselves, have been asked the question, "Am I my brother's keeper?" In the last decade in all free thinking and peace loving nations, this question has been affirmatively answered.

The invading forces of a crazed Dictator brought about the combined assistance of all democratic countries. During the last few months, and in our own country, we can see the answer to this question, "Am I my brother's keeper?". In the voluntary response to assisting all persons affected by the great Flood in Manitoba. We have also been deeply concerned about the tragic fires in Rimouski and Little Cabana to the point where Federal, Provincial and individual contributions had been sent without question to their respective aid. While it may appear to be small by comparison, the total loss of one pair of eyes is a major tragedy to an individual. It is true, there is no daily or weekly press releases on an individual, but to the person in question, the complete loss of his vision is as heartbreaking as the loss of millions of dollars worth of fertile soil, or the complete devastation of villages and towns by fire. There is no National Fund raised in excitement over the loss of vision, but we appeal to you to weigh this subject carefully. The Canadian National Institute for the Blind will be shortly conducting its central and southern Alberta Campaign to aid in our vital work, and the public's continued support is urgently requested. We believe that all persons living under a democratic system of government should pause a moment and realize they are "Their Brother's Keeper".

The local Lions Club will begin the actual campaign in the near future. When they call for your donation—give generously.

Doug Litchfield entertained in honor of several prospective missionaries of the First Ward on Tuesday night. Arlene Hudson, Gary Christian, Allan Shaw and Jay Attwood with their partners were present to enjoy a chicken supper and play Goofy Hook and Horsefeathers. A very enjoyable evening was spent.
